Marginal Column By "COMMENTATOR"

COMMUNIST and Neo-Fascist gains and Democratic losses might safely be predicted in Sunday's municipal elections in Southern and Central Italy. The political importance of these elections is negligible yet they have been followed with close interest by foreign observers who are naturally interested in what is going to happen in next year's general elections. As a political barometer they might, however, prove extremely unreliable because both the municipal electoral system and the whole present tie-up, which includes a number of strange alliances, are entirely different from patterns followed by a general election.

DE Gasperi's Demo-Christians appear in many places in one list with the other centre parties and right-wing Socialists, while elsewhere they have a common front with the M.S.I. (the neo-Fascists), led by Senator Maraschini, better fitted by name to be a Poglavsek than a Duce. The M.S.I. have made common cause with the monarchists in some South Italian cities, but elsewhere are bitterly fighting them. In Sardinia the right-wing Socialists appear in one list with the Communists, while Stalin's Italian admirers in one or two places at least have made a deal with the neo-Fascists. It is an extremely confused situation and the election results should be received cum grano salis.

THE Communist-Nemsi Socialist united front stands good chances of heading the poll in both Rome and Naples. They are appearing as a "citizens list" and their candidate for Sindaco in Rome is Senator Nitti, the rightist elder statesman who has attempted to show in one of his recent books that Communism is a "barbaric aberration." In Naples the "Lista Civica" is headed by Senator Labriola who was until very recently called a "bloodstained fascist" by his present allies. Ideology counts in Italy for much less than elsewhere and this goes for the Communists too. According to their 1946 party statute "membership in the party does not imply acceptance of the philosophical doctrine of materialism." Their adaptability to specific conditions in Italy has of course much to do with Communist successes in that country.

IN most South Italian cities the MSI competes with the monarchist P.N.M. headed by a rich shipowner from Naples, Achille Lauro. This part of the country has been a traditional bulwark of conservatism, and it should not be forgotten that there was a majority for the king in these parts at the referendum about the future of the monarchy after World War Two. Much depends, unfortunately, on the former fascists, many of whom will be allowed to vote for the first time since the end of the war. Some of them, notably Marshal Graziani and Venerio Borghese have openly announced their sympathy with the MSI, while former party leaders like Grandi and Buttafava have been more reticent.

THE Demo-Christians are expected to lose votes, probably many, and the result of the elections might affect the position of the party leader, DE Gasperi, at the party conference to be held shortly after the elections. The "Catholic Action" right-wing of the party, supported by the Vatican, wishes to see its own man, Prof. Gedda, as party leader instead of DE Gasperi who is too independent for some of the churchmen and has offended their vested interests with his land-reform project. The monarchists, however, might not be eager partners. (The other day their leader sharply criticized the Pope's attitude towards birth control). So the question of Demo-Christian leadership remains in suspense. In the last few days the majority of Italian citizens, regardless of age and party affiliation, has shown far more concern about the fate of their favourite Magni who is leading the field in the Firenze-Rome-Florence cycling race than about political issues. Everybody could be a politician but there is after all only one Magni. Jerusalem, May 22.

Mapai Meeting Informed That Kaplan Resigns

Mr. Eliezer Kaplan has resigned as Finance Minister because of ill health, but will remain in the Cabinet. His successor has not yet been named.

The resignation, which had been the centre of speculation throughout the week, was announced by Mr. Kaplan himself at a meeting of the Mapai Knesset faction yesterday. Mr. Kaplan said:

"I regret to announce that reasons of health oblige me to resign from my post as Finance Minister—a post requiring especially great efforts, which I am unable to continue. I wish to stress that there is no basis whatsoever to rumours that my resignation is motivated by differences of opinion between me and my colleagues in the Cabinet."

Dr. Joseph mentioned the person most frequently mentioned as successor to Mr. Kaplan is Dr. Dov Joseph, Minister of Commerce. The biggest stumbling block to such a development, however, appears to be the difficulty of finding a successor to Dr. Joseph. It was considered unlikely that Dr. Joseph would agree to hold both the Finance and Commerce portfolios.

Reports that Mr. Levi Eshkol would leave the Agriculture Ministry to take over the Commerce post were flatly denied yesterday by top-ranking officials of the latter ministry.

Mr. Kaplan's resignation was available as to whether Mr. Kaplan would remain in the Cabinet or would be replaced by another member of the Government. It was said to be a matter of internal decision.

VENIZILOS ENDS
SYRIAN TRIP
DAMASCUS, Wednesday (AP).—Greek Deputy Premier Sophocles Venizelos left for Athens today, after a three-day visit to the Syrian capital.

During his stay Venizelos took part in preparing an economic draft agreement which will be signed shortly.

He told newsmen that he hoped Egypt's problem would be solved, thereby paving the way towards the establishment of a Middle East defence pact.

ARMY MUST 'PROFIT'
FROM 'ARMISTICE'
TEL AVIV, Wednesday. — At a meeting of two officers' courses at an Army camp somewhere in Israel today, the Chief of Staff, Major General Yigael Yadin, said that the Army must profit from the present "armistice" as much as possible.

Kerosene Price Up 40 Per Cent

A 40 per cent rise in the price of kerosene will go into effect today—the first in a series of measures designed to cut fuel consumption severely, it was learned in Jerusalem yesterday. Transport restrictions are to be published this week and industry and power curtailments, already approved by a fifteen-member ministerial committee, will be announced when details have been worked out.

When the full programme is implemented, a 15-20 per cent fuel saving is expected.

The kerosene price rise—reportedly a result of removal of Government subsidies—was primarily designed to cut down on waste, which is believed by the Government to be especially high. As kerosene consumption is more elastic than the use of other fuel, the price increase alone is expected to result in the saving of a significant portion of the average 10,000-ton monthly consumption.

Blank Bus Hours
The anticipated transportation cuts will affect buses, taxis, hauling trucks and private cars. Urban and inter-urban buses, it is understood, will have to end their daily service on each route two hours earlier. Urban lines, moreover, will cut down the total number of trips on each route during the day and institute "blank hours" during which there will be no buses along important routes.

The restriction on the use of private cars, which will extend to those in Government service, will take the form of enforced idleness for two days each week. The driver will be able to choose the days—two which will be marked clearly on his car—but will not be permitted to switch days once they are fixed. The two off-days will also apply to transport vans. After 7 p.m., moreover, only the driver will be permitted to travel in trucks—a move designed to eliminate family pleasure drives.

Limiting Credits
To cure the psychological crisis which has shaken the stability of currency, the Government should keep to its avowed policy of limiting the credits. Dr. Bader said. The Government should also announce the size of the external debt, which was "much smaller" than rumoured.

Dr. Bader's statement was made after he had been "prevented from making it in Committee," he said. He did not specify why he was kept from speaking in Committee.

Zoning Abolished
The present "zoning" system, designed to limit the radius within which private cars could move, will, in view of its non-enforcement and failure, be abolished.

Those violating the fuel curbs, it is understood, will have their licences revoked by administrative order of the Minister of Communications. An inter-ministerial committee, composed of the Ministers concerned with Mr. L. E. Koolof, Head of the Finance Ministry's Fuel Department as chairman, is to Mr. D. E. Pines, Minister of Communications, has appointed a more permanent committee to look into the constraints of Tel Aviv taxi drivers regarding fares, the employment of additional drivers, and other problems.

President GETS
TECHNION AWARD
The honorary Doctor of Technical Science degree awarded to President Chaim Weizmann by the Technion last Monday was conferred yesterday in an informal ceremony at the Presidential Residence in Rehovot.

In presenting the degree on behalf of the institution's Directors and Senate, Rav Aluf Ya'acov Dor, the Technion's Principal, hailed President Weizmann as a great man of science and the spirit, who had "opened the doors" of the Technion for Jewish students.

Other members of the Technion delegation who were present at the Rehovot ceremony were Mr. Shabtai Levi, Prof. A. Tchernavsky, Prof. Y. L. Sherezhovsky and Mr. A. Shalom.

U.S. Deny Privileges In Egyptian Arms Sale
WASHINGTON, Wednesday (USIS). — A U.S. State Department spokesman told newsmen today that the agreement under which Egypt may purchase U.S. police equipment was "arrived at through an exchange of notes in Cairo in which the Egyptian Government gave the usual assurances required in an agreement of this type."

The spokesman said there was no truth in the press dispatches from Cairo published here on Monday quoting the Egyptian Interior Minister as saying that the U.S. had given Egypt priority over "all other states" for the supply of arms and that no conditions were attached to the sale—as are usually required of other nations in such cases.

The Ministry for Religious Affairs issued a statement today that it had received a request from the Jewish Agency and the Jewish National Fund for the purchase of land in the Holy Land. The Ministry said it would be pleased to consider the request, but that it would be necessary to consult with the relevant authorities before making a decision.

Churchill Tells House Why Israel Loan Refused

LONDON, Wednesday (Reuters).—Prime Minister Winston Churchill said today that Britain could not make a five million sterling loan to Israel, as requested by President Weizmann, to finance Israel's purchase of oil during the next six months.

"The Government gave this request the most careful and sympathetic consideration but despite our understanding of the difficulties with which Israel is faced I felt compelled to inform the President that the gravity of our own economic situation precluded us from making a loan."

Mr. Woodrow Wyatt, Labour, who raised the matter in the House of Commons, asked Mr. Churchill to reconsider the decision.

"Israel played an extremely important part in the affairs of the Middle East," he said. "It was important that she should maintain her influence there. Was it not a fact that Israel proposed to repay a quarter of the loan in dollars, which would have been attractive to Britain from a commercial point of view?" he asked.

Mr. Churchill replied "I can assure you that it was only with the greatest regret that I bowed to what I was convinced were the commanding facts of the situation."

Mr. Emmanuel Shinwell, Labour, said that the British Government had given very little help in operating the Haifa refinery and helping Israel to get oil supplies. He urged the Prime Minister to consider this again, particularly in the military and defence aspects.

Mr. Churchill replied "I have long considered this a matter of great importance, but every step had to be taken by the Government with great care to avoid further complications in the Middle East."

Mr. Shinwell however pointed out that the U.S. had not hesitated to make a similar loan to Israel without apparently consulting the British Government. "If the U.S. could do this," he said, "the British Government could surely do the same."

French Demand
Debate on E.D.C.
PARIS, Wednesday (AP).—The Foreign Affairs Committee of the French National Assembly voted 25 to 14 today in favour of a full debate on foreign affairs in the Assembly, before the signing of the European Defence Community.

The Committee's recommendations are not however binding on the Assembly or the Cabinet.

Joy Charges P.O.W.'s
Pressed into Service
TOKYO, Wednesday (Reuters).—At the Korean truce negotiations today, Vice Admiral Turner Joy, Chief U.N. delegate, charged that captured U.N. men were pressed into Communist armies or were transported to Communist China.

He said the U.N. believed that 50,000 prisoners, mostly South Koreans, were disposed of by the Communists in this way. The U.N. would never violate the legal right of prisoners, he said.

More disobedient prisoners were removed today from the U.N. prison camp compound in which one Communist was killed and 85 injured in a riot yesterday.

An 8th Army statement said there were no incidents when troops entered the compound to segregate prisoners for transfer to "other quarters."

An official spokesman in Seoul today said that concussion grenades caused the death of the prisoners killed yesterday when a small group of Communists resisted an order to leave the compound. The grenades were used when the prisoners attacked with steel-tipped spears made from tent poles stretched rails and barbed wire fences.

Germans To Continue Talks With Israel

100 Jews Arrested
In Egyptian Raids
CAIRO, Wednesday (Reuters).—Egyptian police last night arrested 100 Jews in a series of raids on Jewish homes and businesses in the city. The police said the raids were part of a campaign to suppress Jewish activities in the city.

In Cairo and Alexandria police arrested youths, a police official said. Pamphlets with the title "Voice of Hope" were reported to have been seized, as well as an alleged Egyptian passport.

The Egyptian branch of the organization is alleged to have helped the departure of 21,000 Egyptian Jews.

E. German Police
Mass on Border
BERLIN, Wednesday (AP).—East German "people's police" are reported to be concentrating on the zonal frontier, and border villages were ordered to turn their homes over to them for barracks.

The order came as negotiations for a peace contract which would put Western Germany into the European Defence Community, entered the final phase.

The reports said that the evacuation of homes had already been accomplished in several border villages, including Thuringia, where displaced residents crowded into the town's only inn for shelter. The crack Bereitschaften (alert units) have already taken over school and other buildings along the East-West frontier.

No Date Yet Fixed For
German Peace Contract
WASHINGTON, Wednesday. —No date has yet been fixed for the signing of the peace contract with Germany, Mr. Dean Acheson told a press conference here today. He said he would leave for Europe to take part in the signing until full agreement has been reached.

Mr. Acheson added that he hoped the contract would be ready for signing in the course of the next few days and that it would be in time to pass the U.S. Senate before the end of June.

He denied the U.S. would attempt to impose its views on the French and British governments to settle the Egyptian and Tunisian problems along American lines.

The European Army conference meeting in Paris today accepted a German proposal that joint meetings of the European Defence Community and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization should be held whenever a majority of the E.D.C. think it necessary.

This decision was taken after France had proposed that joint meetings should take place when recommended unanimously.

The conference also discussed the duration of the treaty. France wanted it for 30 years to coincide with the duration of the coal and steel pool. The Dutch wanted it limited to the length of the Atlantic Pact.

Only Reforms Can Quieten
Tunis, Says Baccouche
TUNIS, Wednesday (AP). — Premier Salah Eddine Baccouche said today that the only way out of the present explosive stalemate in Tunisia is for the French to declare immediate reforms giving a little more freedom to this troubled African Protectorate.

The Premier said in an interview it would do no good to bring the Franco-Tunisian quarrel before the U.N. because it is a futile organization.

"There would be a lot of speeches and nothing accomplished. It would amount to a first class funeral. If France gives the reforms quickly, the situation may be saved."

"If France refuses, I cannot guarantee anything," Baccouche added in reply to a question. M. Jean de Hautecloque, Resident-General, sees eye to eye with Baccouche on this. He said in an interview that he believed France to declare reforms quickly and that the fate of Tunisia lay in the hands of the French Cabinet.

Boehm Withdraws Resignation

BONN, Wednesday (Reuters). — Prof. Franz Boehm has withdrawn his resignation as leader of the West German delegation to the Jewish restitution talks after a meeting with Dr. Adenauer. A West German official stated today, Hermann Abs later stated that a concrete offer to Israel would be made before June 19.

He informed Dr. Adenauer that he had been in contact with the Israeli restitution delegation in London.

Dr. Boehm's reconsideration of his resignation follows a statement last night by the West German Government that negotiations with Israel on reparations must be continued "under all circumstances."

It had earlier been thought that the meetings between Adenauer, Boehm and Abs would be delayed till tomorrow due to the Chancellor's day long conferences with the Allied High Commissioners over the peace contract. The meeting was held, however, in the American High Commissioner's office during an interval in the contract discussions.

A third meeting of the West German cabinet is expected to follow.

'Crisis Warning To Bonn'—Sharett

By Jesse Zel Lurie.
POST Correspondent
NEW YORK, Wednesday. —The resignation of the German restitution negotiators is "a serious warning to Bonn, and puts their good faith to a severe test," Mr. Moshe Sharett, Foreign Minister, said on arrival here this morning via Air France after a day's stop in Paris.

"Israel's constant endeavour is to enlist the moral support of the four occupying powers," he said without specifying which powers had vouchsafed support. He declined to comment on the possible effect of the German peace contract on restitution.

It was learned from other sources that the State Department had made three demarches to Germany last month to fulfill its "inescapable moral obligation" to pay Israel restitution.

Mr. Sharett is going to Washington tomorrow to attend a diplomatic luncheon at the Mayflower, with Government and Congressional leaders and members of the diplomatic corps.

CONSULATE TO CLOSE
POST Correspondent
NEW YORK, Wednesday. —As soon as the German peace contract is ratified it will make the accrediting of an Israeli Consul to Munich and to the Occupying Powers impossible, and the Munich Consulate will be closed despite the inconvenience to Israelis having dealings with and property in Germany, an Israeli spokesman announced here today.

On the question of the Suez Canal, the spokesman said that Israel had requested the major powers to initiate a Security Council question to Egypt as to whether the resolution on the Canal is being fulfilled. No test with an oil tanker has been made, and possibly Egypt has abandoned the blockade, but it is not feasible to make the test until Egypt states her position.

Tunis May Come
Before S.C.
UNITED NATIONS, Wednesday (UP). — The U.S. and France reported here today that they have made a complete policy shift in favour of an examination of the Franco-Tunisian dispute by the U.N. Security Council.

The worsening situation in the Protectorate, coupled with unfavourable repercussions in the U.S. are believed to be the reasons for the change.

The 16-nation Asian-Arab bloc is, however, still pressing for a full session of the General Assembly to consider the problem. They feel that the Security Council would not be able to accomplish much beyond asking the two parties to try to iron out their differences.

Proposed Arms Cuts
Dangerous—Lovett
WASHINGTON, Wednesday (Reuters). — Defence Secretary Robert Lovett declared today that Congressional cuts in the proposed military budget of $52,000m. could jeopardize the ability of the U.S. to maintain its present troop strength in Europe and Korea.

Testifying before the Senate Armed Services Committee, Lovett protested against the action of the House of Representatives in imposing a limit of $46,000m. on military spending in the coming fiscal year. Mr. Lovett said the immediate effect would be "to raise a serious question as to our ability to maintain troops at present in Europe and those engaged in combat in the Far East."

The ceremony was attended by members of the settlement and by her father who had travelled to Israel for the occasion.

AUTHOR OF MONTESSORI SYSTEM DEAD
Maria Montessori, who died recently in Holland, aged 81, was the first Italian woman to obtain a medical doctor's degree. After her graduation at the University of Rome in 1904, she dedicated herself to education, and in her work "The Montessori Method," published in 1912 and translated into many languages, she explained her system of freedom in education. In 1904, when her pacifist ideas displeased Mussolini, she had to leave Italy and her schools were closed.
